REGARD U. S. NOTE

German People Reported, However, as Opposing the Granting of Demands.

REPLY AWAITS ARRIVAL OF DR. MEYER-GERHARD

Envoy Who Is on Way With Message to Kaiser From Ambassador Bernstorff.

BERLIN, June 11, via London, June 2. 2:27 a.m.—In diplomatic circles the atest American note to Germany was regarded as decidedly conciliatory in one, far more so than the first stories reaching Berlin by cablegram had led the foreign diplomats to expect.

The Vossische Zeitung says: The note probably will not be an wered sooner than two weeks, because he arrival of Dr. Anton Meyer-Gerhard with special messages from Count on Bernstorff, the German ambassafor at Washington, to the German government must be awaited. His arrival is not expected before the 17th. til after this."

The German government, which plans to defer an answer to President Wilson's note until the arrival in Berlin of Dr. Anton Meyer-Gerhard, the representative of Count Von Bernstorff, by Germany 1981 the German ambassador to Washing-ton, would, it is said, have been better pleased if the note had not been given out for the present in the United out for the present in the United States, in order to avoid newspaper comment in the interim.

Copies Made of Note.

Immediately upon the receipt of the American note, which reached Ambas sador Gerard last night and was ecoded by the embassy staff early this norning and delivered at the foreign office at 1:10 p.m. today. Herr vor office at 1:10 p.m. today, Herr von Jagow, the foreign minister, had copies of it made for the chancellor, headquarters and the admiralty. Herr von Jagow asked to be excused from any comment on the note until the various officials directly concerned had an opportunity to familiarize themselves with its contents.

It has been learned that the editorial printed Thursday by the Lokal Anzeiger concerning the resignation of Secretary Bryan and the situation between the United States and Germany was due to private initiative and was not inspired by the government. The editorial declared that it might easily be believed that honorable and unprejudiced negotiations between the United States and Germany might lead to an understanding between the United States and Germany might lead to an understanding between the United States and Germany might lead to an understanding between them Litted States and Germany might lead to an understanding between them Litted States and Germany might lead to an understanding between them Litted States and Germany might lead to an understanding between them Litted States and Germany might lead to an understanding between them Litted States and Germany might lead to an understanding between them Litted States and Germany might lead to an understanding between them Litted States and Germany might lead to an understanding between them Litted States and Germany might lead to an understanding between them Litted States and Germany might lead to an understanding between them Litted States and Germany might lead to an understanding between them Litted States and Germany might lead to an understanding between them Litted States and Germany might lead to an understanding between them Litted States and Germany might lead to an understanding between them Litted States and Germany might lead to an understanding between them Litted States and Germany might lead to an understanding between them Litted States and Germany might lead to an understanding between them Litted States and Germany might lead to might lead to an understanding be-tween them. It added that it was be-lieved the note to Germany would con-tain the basis for such negotiations, and that "this basis can be built upon with the good will of the parties con-cerned."

After Count von Bernstoff, the German ambassador, announced that he would discontinue interviews, Dr. Dernburg was regarded as the leading exponent of German views in this country. One of his most notable utterances, was a letter read at a mass neeting in Portland, Me., in which he disclaimed for his country any am bition for world dominion, but insisted upon an open sea and a policy of free intercourse. His speeches and interviews reached a climax when he attempted to justify the sinking of the Lusitania, although expressing regret or the loss of American lives.

"Special Notice"

After six months of collecting data from the best authorities on home planning, and the assistance of the best architects, we have had designed a home containing six rooms, two baths and attic. The introduction of the two-bath arrangement is entirely new, and is positively the first time attempted in this city. Our next attempt was to select a location that was in keeping with this type of home, which necessarily demanded the best; hence, we decided on Washington Heights, where we now have under construction ten of these new type homes, which will be ready for the market in about three weeks. Plans and specifications can be seen at the office.

Swimming Scientifically Taught

Every person should perfect himself in this art in order to safeguard himself when in or upon the water. For a man not to be able to swim points to something like criminal negligence. A person who cannot swim may become not only a danger to himself, but to others in time of energency. Children should early be taught to swim. None are too old to learn and none can learn too soon.

The Y. M. C. A. offers the best fa-cilities for learning this art. A teacher as been employed for the summer months who will give instructions to all members ree.
